How to Choose a
Home Health
Care Agency

Caring for a Loved One at Home or Need Assistance Yourself?...Home Health could be your answer!

WHY

Home Health?

Home health can provide a nurse or rehabilitation therapist to see you in your home and be paid for by Medicare or Insurance provider.

You can ask the hospital or facility discharge planner/social worker for the names of local agencies.

You can get the names of home health care agencies through Medicare's online comparison tool, Home Health Compare.
medicareinfo.org

You can also use the search tool on the web site of the National Association for Home Care & Hospice (NAHC).
NAHC.org

Then, call the agency directly.

- Do they offer the services you or your loved one needs?
- Is the agency certified to take Medicare and what if anything will you have to pay out of pocket?
- Will they work with and talk to you or your loved one's own doctor?
- Who would come to the house (a nurse, a therapist, home health aide, a volunteer, etc.)? How much training and experience have these people had?
- Does the agency have references or satisfaction reports that they will share with you?
- Request a meeting with an agency representative.

This information is brought to you by Signature HomeNOW. Signature HomeNOW is part of the Signature HealthCARE® family of healthcare companies. Signature HomeNOW is on the Signature HealthCARE list of preferred home health providers because of the excellent care they provide, the seamless coordination from SNF discharge to homecare services and the caliber of their caregivers. There are other home health agencies in this geographic area. While we do not have information about the services offered by those other agencies or the quality of care that they provide, we are happy to give you a list of those other agencies so that you may contact them.
